City Cops crack ex-IB Officer's murder case: Two arrested

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta addressing a press meet at his office in city this morning. He is flanked by NR Sub-Division ACP M. Shivashankar (left) and CCB ACP C.K. Ashwathnarayan.

Mysuru, Nov. 8 (RK&DM)- Just three days after the death of retired Intelligence Bureau (IB) Officer R.N. Kulkarni (82) who was fatally knocked down by a car when he was on his routine evening stroll in Manasagangothri campus at about 5.45 pm on Nov. 4, the City Police have cracked the murder case with the arrest of two persons.

The arrested have been identified as 30-year-old Manu, a resident of Sharadadevinagar in city and 30-year-old Varun Gowda of Kuvempunagar.

Announcing the arrest at a press meet held at his Office here this morning, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta said that the prime accused Manu is the younger son of Madappa, a neighbour of R.N. Kulkarni and another accused is his (Manu) friend Varun Gowda who had helped in committing the crime.

Following the complaint lodged by Kulkarni's son-in-law Sanjay Angadi at the jurisdictional Jayalakshmipuram Police Station on Nov. 5, accusing his father-in-law's (Kulkarni) neighbour Madappa of hatching a plot to kill the former IB Officer over a dispute regarding leaving setback space in the construction of the building which was being built by Madappa adjacent to the residence of Kulkarni at Sharadadevinagar, four Police teams were formed to crack the case, the City Top Cop said.

As the Police began investigations based on the complaint, Manu, the younger son of Kulkarni's neighbour Madappa, was taken into custody on Saturday itself and was subjected to interrogation when he spilled the beans on the involvement of his friend Varun Gowda in committing the crime.

R.N. Kulkarni

Subsequently, the Police picked up Varun Gowda for questioning and was arrested today after he was found to have provided logistical support to Manu for committing the planned murder, which was done to look like a hit-and-run case, the Commissioner said.

Continuing, Dr. Chandragupta said that the motive of the murder was the ongoing legal dispute between Kulkarni and Madappa over construction of the building.

Manu, who was upset after the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) slapped the final notice asking Madappa to demolish the part of the building which was in violation of building byelaws, sought the help of his friend Varun Gowda, who together hatched a plot to do away with the octogenarian Kulkarni.

Later, Manu, making use of the Honda-make car which was given to him by his another friend Raghu for sale, told Varun Gowda to watch the movements of Kulkarni so that they can plan the murder to perfection.

Accordingly, Varun Gowda watched the movements of Kulkarni on a two-wheeler (a scooter) for a couple of days before they finally plotted the murder by killing Kulkarni to make it look like a hit-and-run case.

On the evening of Nov. 4, Manu followed the instructions of Varun Gowda who stood at a distance on his two-wheeler and drove the car after removing the Registration Number plates on the narrow road that connects the Computer Science block with the Post Office in Manasagangothri campus at about 5.45 pm and fatally knocked down Kulkarni, before speeding away from the spot, the Commissioner said.

Dr. Chandragupta further said that Manu was the lone occupant of the car when he fatally knocked down Kulkarni on Nov. 4.

Manu, an MBA graduate, was into construction business while his accomplice Varun Gowda is an MCA graduate. The prime accused Manu is also an accused in a group clash case registered in Bilikere Police Station a couple of years ago, he added.

Discounting various theories that were doing rounds, the Commissioner clarified that the sole motive for the planned murder is the dispute that the deceased Kulkarni had with his neighbour Madappa over construction of a building adjacent to his house. Maintaining that the investigation is still underway, Dr. Chandragupta said that as of now, no more details can be given until the Police complete the investigation in full.

Lauding the Police teams, who included over 50 officers and personnel, for their swift action and investigation, the Police Commissioner said that he has recommended a cash reward of Rs. 50,000 to the Police teams which cracked the case.

Initially, the case was registered as a hit-and-run case in V.V. Puram Traffic Police Station. But it was handed over to the jurisdictional Jayalakshmipuram Police Station after the Police, who visited the spot and scrutinised the images captured by the CCTV camera installed near the spot, came to the conclusion that it was a planned murder. He also said that the car and the two-wheeler (a scooter) used for the crime have been seized.

N.R. Sub-Division ACP M. Shivashankar and CCB ACP C.K. Ashwathnarayan were present at the press meet.

Vox Populi Vox Dei...

When a senior ex-IB Officer gets killed for raising his voice against unauthorised construction...

Dear Citizens of Mysuru,

It is very sad to know that Sri R.N. Kulkarni died because of the apathy shown by the officers concerned of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and others concerned. Even after 16 hearings in Court of Law, nothing is decided and there is no action taken on the erred.

Sri Kulkarni was a very straight-forward, law-abiding, former IB Officer of Government of India (GoI). The officers concerned to whom the complaint was given by Kulkarni may have simply given notice to the neighbour, which no one cared in time.

In fact, such complaints normally will never be taken seriously by the people, thus leading to corruption which is rampant.

Unauthorised constructions and constructing buildings beyond the licence granted have become common. When a senior GoI Officer gets killed for raising his voice against unauthorised construction, what is the fate of an ordinary law-abiding citizen?

The City Corporation has the power to pull down the unauthorised constructions immediately when once it is observed, before the unauthorised constructing agency approaches the Court of Law. Not only the Officers responsible for not taking necessary action, but also the contracting agency should be hauled up in Court of Law.

It is a shame that the Mysuru City Corporation is being silent after issuing the notice to the owners, who are constructing the structures not as per sanctioned plan.

I request that, at least, this case must be taken seriously and justice be done. Let money not play its part.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Recent weeks have seen a flurry of scam messages threatening users that their electricity connection will be disconnected for failure to pay power bills or their internet and mobile banking will be suspended if PAN is not updated. All it takes to lose your precious life savings is clicking on a dodgy link or being swayed by a persistent "call centre executive" to share a banking OTP or PIN – which should never be shared. For the elderly and other vulnerable citizens, it is a devastating experience to watch their bank accounts wiped out in the blink of an eye.

Scamsters often use SIMs and bank accounts belonging to poor people – who have a desperate incentive to hand these over for a small commission – and withdraw the cash quickly. So the trail can go cold equally fast. RBI is reportedly planning a fraud registry to monitor dubious transactions using AI and big data, and this is really needed to link various complaints. Telecom and messaging companies must also closely track those doing telecalling and sending bulk messages. Better coordination and intelligence-sharing between these entities are just as important, without violating the privacy of law-abiding citizens of course.

Man claps 1,140 times in a minute for world record

Davenport: An Iowa man broke a Guinness World Record by clapping his hands 1,140 times in one minute. Dalton Meyer, 20, of Davenport, said his interest in speed clapping began when he was in elementary school and he saw a YouTube video of Kent French, who was once known as the fastest clapper in the world.

Meyer said his record attempt used the wrist clapping technique developed by the previous Guinness World Record holder, Eli Bishop, who managed 1,103 claps in one minute. Meyer worked with Charm Media Group in Geneseo, Ill., to make sure his official attempt was properly filmed.

Unscientific road expansion work on Mangaluru NH 75

Sir,

Recently, our travel to Mangaluru from Mysuru by road was particularly inconvenient and chaotic from Mani in Puttur to B.C. Road in Bantwal as the stretch is in complete chaos due to the National Highway 75 (NH 75) 4-lane expansion works.

It is particularly very unsafe for motor vehicles due to the non-existence of work markings on the NH. The stretch is filled with dust and gets slushy during rains.

There have been instances of KSRTC buses getting stuck in the slush on the Highway stretch between Mani and Kalladka. The roads are barely visible at night due to the absence of reflector markings indicating the ongoing expansion works.

Motorists are having a tough time negotiating the unscientific road works particularly at night time. This has led to vehicles breaking down and getting unrecognisable due to the dust.

Deep excavations, hill cutting, and flyover works are going on at some stretches of the NH 75 between Mani and B.C. Road. There are potholes and craters at every 500 m of the 14-km stretch. Motorists will be forced to look for alternative routes if these concerns are not addressed immediately.

Microchip implantation and registration of pet dogs on Nov. 12

Mysuru, Nov. 8 (KS)- Canine Club of Mysore has organised microchip implantation and Kennel Club of India (KCI) registration for pet dogs on Nov. 12 from 10 am to 1 pm at the Veterinary Hospital in Chamundipuram here.

Club President B.P. Manjunath said that microchipping a pet has many benefits.

With cases of dog lifting on the rise, a microchipped dog can easily be reunited with owners from the abductors; the pet can participate in dog shows organised by KCI across the country.

Dogs can be scanned for a microchip using a hand-held electronic device that will recognise the unique information held inside the chip.

If a pet is stolen or lost, vets and animal shelters can scan the pet for a microchip and contact owner via the database. A microchip is not a tracking device/GPS and it is for identification purposes only.

ST tag for Kodavas: CNC reiterates demand

Seeks immediate intervention of National Commission for Scheduled Tribes, New Delhi

Madikeri, Nov. 8 (PS&BCT)- Codava National Council (CNC) President N.U. Nachappa has reiterated that Kodavas should be accorded tribal status or ST (Scheduled Tribe) tag and the elected representatives should bring the demands of the Kodavas to the notice of the Government and pressurise it to conduct a genuine ethnography study of Kodava tribalism.

Submitting a memorandum to National Commission for Scheduled Tribes in New Delhi recently, he said that the ST tag for the Kodava tribe and geo-political autonomy are synonymous for Kodavas. He urged the Commission to expedite the long-cherished aspirations of Kodava land geopolitical Autonomy under Articles 244, 371 (read with 6th and 8th Schedule of the Constitution) and also assign ST tag to the Kodava tribe.

Nachappa and the delegation told the Commission that the ST tag for Kodavas is essential to preserve the culture of the Kodava community as well as to secure its future. The tag will also help in preserving the rights of the community and protect the natural and ancestral assets so that these values could be handed over to the next generation.

Stating that the Kodava tribe has its own extraordinary tribal characteristics, he maintained that ST tag is a must for their historical continuity and for the protection of Kodava land, language, cultural heritage, folkloric identity and traditional habitation. Also, the tag was important for their economic and political empowerment, he said.

"The Centre has taken steps to include six tribes in Assam to the schedule list of Constitution to preserve the rich cultural heritage and unique identity of those tribes. In addition, the Narendra Modi-led NDA Government has formulated the exercise of amending the Constitution in order to assign greater autonomy to already existing Article 371 and Sixth Schedule regions of North India," he said.

"In the present prevailing circumstances, we Kodava tribe certainly need statutory protection with ST tag and geopolitical autonomy under proper Constitutional enactments. Unless the amendments to the Constitution are made, Kodavas will be an extinct community soon and the culture, unique tradition and language will be lost forever," Nachappa said. In the past, the Centre had directed the State Government to conduct an ethnographic study on Kodava tribalism and subsequently, the Karnataka Government entrusted this responsibility to the Mysuru-based Karnataka State Tribal Research Institute (KSTRI).

KSTRI has carried out a major portion of the socio-economic study and created fake economic status. The KSTRI neither collected authentic documents nor produced proper income and expenditure sources but collected only verbal statements, marginalising the real ethnographic issue, Nachappa claimed.

The KSTRI created a fake exaggerated version with a prejudiced mindset under pressure from many dominant communities and from communities that have political and economic clout. The Kodavas want a real ethnographic study to explore and establish a true tribal ethnicity, he said and urged the Commission to intervene and look into the matter urgently and direct an authentic ethnographic study.

Lt.Col. (retd.) B.M. Parvathy, Macharanda Sindhu, Kalimada Ashmi, Karthanda Tej, Kaliyanda Prakash, Jammada Mohan, Palachanda Bipin Kalappa, Madrira Karumbaiah, Karthanda Dillon Thammaiah, Machettira Naveen and others were part of the delegation.

Convention of Trade Unions at Delhi on Jan. 30

CITU National Secretary K.N. Umesh inaugurates 12th National General Council Session of Postal Staff in city

Mysuru, Nov. 8 (MTY&DM)- Accusing the Centre of handing over the nation's asset to Capitalists through the National Assets Monetisation Plan (NMP), CITU National Secretary K.N. Umesh said that a National Joint Convention of Trade Unions will take place at New Delhi on Jan. 30, 2023 to deliberate on the action plans for opposing the Centre's privatisation moves.

He was speaking after inaugurating the 12th National General Council Session of Postal Employees organised under the aegis of National Federation of Postal Employees (NFPE) at Govindrao Memorial Hall on JLB road here on Sunday.

Pointing out that it has also been planned to lay siege to the Parliament on Jan.30 in protest against the Centre's anti-people and anti-labour policies, Umesh said that farmers, the working class, labourers and the like will stage demonstrations just like the farmer movement that was held last year in protest against the new farm laws.

Charging the Centre of working against the interest of the working class and farmers, Umesh observed that privatisation also means that reservation in Government jobs too get diminished. Stressing on the need for strongly opposing any privatisation and corporatisation moves of the Centre, he said that the Postal Department is a national asset, which needs to be protected at all cost.

Karnataka Circle Post-Master General S. Rajendrakumar said that the Postal Department is facing a severe challenge from courier companies. Stressing on the need for the Postal Department to come up with new ideas, he underlined the need for extending the horizons of service and at the same time to ensure profits.

Trade Union leaders R.N. Parashar, C.C. Pillai, K. Raghavendran, Tapan Bhowmick, Janardhan Mazumdar, K.K.N. Kutty and others were present.

Mysuru, Nov. 8- Devaraja Police, have registered a case against the First Division Assistant (FDA) and a District Tourism Consultant (DTC) of the Tourism Department on charges of creating fake documents and misusing Rs. 89 lakh funds meant for self employment.

The case has been registered against FDA Abhishek and the then DTC Umesh Naragunda.

Sewage Treatment Plant at Hanchya-Sathagalli

Residents term it as unscientific, stop works

Mysuru, Nov. 8 (RKB&KS)- Terming the construction of the Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) at Hanchya-Sathagalli 'B' Zone by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) as unscientific, the residents of the area, who not only opposed the construction of the STP, staged a protest on Nov. 6 and brought the works to a halt.

Meanwhile, MUDA Assistant Engineer Chethan Babu and Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE) Mohan Kumar, who visited the spot yesterday afternoon, held discussions with the protesting residents but failed to convince them.

Mohan Babu said that they have informed the matter to Superintending Engineer (SE) Channakeshava, who may visit the spot tomorrow (Nov. 8). If the higher officials tell us to shift the STP to another place, we will do as instructed, he added.

The residents said that there are many residences and also houses of retired STF Police officers, who had fought against forest brigand Veerappan within 100 mts. from the proposed STP. If at all the STP starts functioning, these residents have to bear the stench emanating from the STP and may also fall sick frequently, they added.

They said that the MUDA should stop taking up works which are not public-friendly and take up works which are actually beneficial to the public, without causing inconvenience to anybody.

The retired Police officials have urged the MUDA and other authorities concerned to construct the STP at other places, where there are no residences.

Leopard attacks dog at KRS

Not one, but a family of leopards suspected in Brindavan Gardens

Srirangapatna, Nov. 8 (Vinay Karekura&KS)- The elusive leopard, has been spotted twice in KRS yesterday too and the wild cat has attacked and injured a dog near Royal Orchid Hotel in the afternoon. Luckily, the dog escaped from the jaws of death but has sustained injuries.

After the leopard attacked the dog and escaped from the spot, it was again spotted near the South Gate of the reservoir and a CCTV camera has captured the leopard movement at about 7 pm.

According to a staff, who wished to remain anonymous, there may be a family of leopards residing in KRS.

He further said that the leopard spotted directly by the officials is well built and healthy but the leopard caught on CCTV camera near the South Gate looks different as it is not well built and expressed doubts that there could be a family of leopards.

Since 20 days, the Forest staff have place three cages in different spots and had also conducted combing operations to trap the elusive leopard. But the leopard has not ventured anywhere near the cages.

The leopard being spotted at a distance from the ticket counter near Brindavan Gardens by the staff of the Fisheries Department has created tension as thousands of tourists pass by this place daily. KRS Reservoir remained closed for tourists yesterday too.

See village through new eyes at Dasara Exhibition

'Halli Mane' a huge crowd-puller with age-old and rare agriculture implements, household items

By Mohan Kayaka

Life in a village is not a walk in the park by any means. Farming is one of the most difficult jobs and crops need close attention and efforts for a successful harvest. At the same time, life in a village is vibrant and lively with lots of cooperation and bonhomie.

To give a glimpse of village life and environs to the city-bred population, a 'Halli Mane' has been set up at the Dasara Exhibition Grounds and the design and premises of the house say it all. It is an experience of village life that includes model farming, animal husbandry, pisciculture and poultry.

The 'Halli Mane' has been naturally set up and there are fresh greens all over the place. There is an impressive collection of agricultural implements and household articles that have been passed on from the earlier generations to the present. The collection of metal wares, storage items that were used to store grains so that they do not rot, grinding, pouring and the traditional ploughs are on display.

The facility has been established by the Agriculture Department and is spread over an area of one acre. Some of the items that are stored here include old grain measuring items like seru, valle, paavu, chataaku, balla, kolaga, gudani, vaade, thakkadi, kuttani and others that have literally faded away from the memory of this generation.

Unique items like ajji cheela or buda cheela where old women keep betel leaves, areca nuts and tobacco, old cooling instruments (beesanike), old radio and manually-operated TVs without the ubiquitous remote control, cages to restrain poultry birds from straying out of the home compound, easy chair to relieve physical stress and back pain, sickle, pickaxe and several mud-digging implements are on display.

Cooking and storage items

Also, there is an impressive collection of old cooking items, copper and bronze vessels, the mask-like object tied to the mouths of cattle so that they do not eat away the crops while at work, have been kept for public-viewing. Drawings have been made to demonstrate how paddy, ragi, jowar and millets are considered sacred and how they are carried inside the house after harvest and how pujas are performed when Dhanyalakshmi enters the house.

There is a section dedicated for millets where their benefits for health are highlighted. Using biofertilisers and biopesticides, adopting new techniques to replenish the soil with nutrients from human and animal waste have been demonstrated. The exhibits acknowledge that mindless use of fertilisers and pesticides had yielded declining results and was leaving the soil depleted of life-sustaining nutrients.

Natural farming methods have been put on display at the back of the 'Halli Mane' where there are demonstrations of rainwater harvesting to replenish groundwater, use of open wells and creation of organic manure without using any pesticides. Apart from the displays, visitors can see the crops that have been grown using natural methods at the exhibition site.

Conservation methods

"Methods to protect crops from excess rainfall, soil conservation, judicious use of water, comprehensive and integrated farming methods and diversification of one-acre land where multiple crops can be grown have been put on display," Joint Director of Agriculture Department Dr. B.S. Chandrashekar told Star of Mysore.

Chandrashekar

"Many schemes have been initiated by the Governments and there have been research studies to minimise use of chemicals in agriculture. It is important that all this reaches the farmer who works at the grassroots. Our farmers are no strangers to challenges. With their hard work, they are ready to go that extra mile to overcome obstacles and ensure safe and healthy food," he added.

The response from the visitors to 'Halli Mane' is encouraging as hundreds of them are lining up every day to see the country's roots and also a typical village set up. Though they do not know the names and uses of most of the agricultural and storage implements, they are showing keen interest in learning them.

'Sudharma has a place in rich tradition of Mysuru'

Book on India's only Sanskrit daily released

FROM LEFT: Sanskrit Scholar and retired Deputy Director of Oriental Research Institute (ORI) Dr. T.V. Satyanarayana, 'Sudharma' Editor K.S. Jayalakshmi, MDJA President S.T. Ravikumar (RK), senior journalist H.R. Shreesha, senior journalist and Member of Karnataka Media Academy K.K. Murthy, author & Karnataka Media Academy Member Dr. Koodli Gururaj and MDJA General Secretary M. Subramanya, seen during the release of the book 'Sudharma - Aidu Dashaka Kanda Jagattina Yekaika Samskruta Dina Patrike' at Pathrakartara Bhavan in city yesterday.

Mysuru, Nov. 8 (PM&TRR) "Sanskrit is a treasure house and Sudharma daily newspaper is a symbol of Sanskrit language and culture. Sudharma is one of the best traditions of Mysuru," opined H.R. Shreesha, senior journalist and Rajyotsava award recipient.

He was speaking after releasing the book 'Sudharma - Aidu Dashaka Kanda Jagattina Yekaika Samskruta Dina Patrike,' written by senior journalist Dr. Koodli Gururaj at Pathrakartara Bhavan in city yesterday.

The book release function was jointly organised by Sri Jayatheertha Publications, Bengaluru and Mysuru District Journalists Association (MDJA), Mysuru.

Stating that journalism is needed for the betterment of the society, Shreesha said that Sudharma was successfully brought out by Pandit Varadaraja Iyengar and his son K.V. Sampath Kumar, keeping the interests of the society in mind.

"Sudharma is not just a newspaper. It is symbol of our culture. Sudharma is continuously trying to save Sanskrit language and our culture. Ii is wrong to assume that Sanskrit belongs to a particular community. Sanskrit is a treasure house and it has become the basis of many modern day scientific inventions," said Shreesha.

"While Journalism is a profession for the present day journalists, it was a passion during our days. M. Venkatakrishnaiah showed that a newspaper can stand up against the dictatorial attitude of the rulers. But not many are aware of this. It is important for a journalist to be aware of the language of his place, its history and culture. Journalism should teach our history to future generations. Despite the technological advancements, print media is here to stay," opined Shreesha.

Stating that Pandit Varadaraja Iyengar dedicated his life for Sudharma, Shreesha said that we must all respect this legacy and think about ways and means of supporting this culture of Mysuru. The society should come forward to carry forward this tradition," Shreesha.

'Corruption and casteism is now part of journalism'

Shreesha said though he had opportunities, he didn't choose Government job as he felt there was corruption and casteism. But both have managed to find their way into journalism now, he regretted.

"To safeguard journalism, the two evils of corruption and casteism should be removed. Those who have passion for writing only should be in journalism. Those who want to earn money and make property should not come to journalism. They should go for other professions and pursue their ambitions. Journalism is meant to serve the society, not to make money," concluded the senior journalist.

Speaking about the book, another senior journalist and Member of Karnataka Media Academy K.K. Murthy said that the book 'Sudharma - Aidu Dashaka Kanda Jagattina Yekaika Samskruta Dina Patrike' is brought out after research and with sincerity. "After reading, this book will haunt us and arouse our conscience. Apart from the information about Sudharma newspaper, this book has unveiled the history of journalism in the country. Sudharma is not a newspaper. It has a social and cultural identity and has disseminated Sanskrit language over the years. Despite problems faced during Emergency period, they fearlessly published the daily. All these information are available in the book written by Dr. Koodli Gururaj," said Murthy.

Sudharma Editor K.S. Jayalakshmi, author & Karnataka Media Academy Member Dr. Koodli Gururaj, Sanskrit Scholar and retired Deputy Director of Oriental Research Institute (ORI) Dr. T.V. Satyanarayana, MDJA President S.T. Ravikumar (RK) and MDJA General Secretary M. Subramanya were present on the occasion.

WORD OF THE DAY

Volition

Pronunciation: voh-LISH-un.
Meaning: Volition is a formal word that means "the power of choosing or determining." Usually, though not always, volition follows own, as in "left the company of her own volition."
Origin: When you do something of your own volition, you do it voluntarily, which makes sense—both volition and voluntary ultimately come from the Latin velle, meaning "to wish" or "to will." English speakers borrowed volition from French in the 17th century, using it at first to mean "an act of choosing," a meaning Herman Melville employed in Moby-Dick (1851): "Almost simultaneously, with a mighty volition of ungraduated, instantaneous swiftness, the White Whale darted through the weltering sea." By then, however, the word had also developed an additional meaning, "the power to choose," which is now more common.
Example: "A year ago, Naomi Osaka left French Open of her own volition, never beaten on the court but determining that she needed to pull out before the second round to stand up for herself and protect her mind more than she needed to do whatever she could to win matches."— Howard Fendrich

THE ODD WORD

Vaccary

Dairy or cow pasture.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Variety is the spice of life

Meaning: When you use the phrase 'Variety is the spice of life' you mean that doing a lot of different things and interacting with all sorts of people, etc. is a way to make life more interesting.
Origin: The phrase 'Variety is the spice of life' was first seen in 1785, in William Cowper's poem The Task: "Variety is the very spice of life, that gives it all its flavor."
Example: "I know we usually spend summers at the beach, but I'm thinking we should try camping. After all, variety is the spice of life."

QUOTE BOX

I often quote myself. It adds spice to my conversation.
